SUBJECT:

Letter of appreciation for Technical Content Writing

Dear Tumul Buch,

I want to thank you for being a significant knowledge contributor on our portal Stupidsid.com which caters to undergrad engineering students of various universities.

As per the provisions on the website, you have successfully contributed technical content that was reviewed and accepted by our team of subject experts. I'm very pleased to inform you that your content will be used by thousands of students in their exam preparations.

So here's wishing you the best on behalf of the entire team at Stupidsid in all your academic endeavours. We sincerely wish that you continue to use our platform as a way to teach students and spread knowledge.

Best Regards,
